Dear _____,

I am writing to inform you that a decision has been reached in the National Federation of Federal Employee's lawsuit challenging Executive Orders 13836, 13837, and 13839. See AFGE, AFL-CIO, et al. v. Trump, et al., No. 18-cv-1261 (D.D.C. 08/25/18). The Court's decision declared a majority of the Executive Orders' provisions invalid and enjoined federal agencies from implementing or giving effect to any of the invalid provisions. The specific provisions enjoined include: sections 5(a), 5(e), and 6 Executive Order 13836; sections 3(a), 4(a), and 4(b) of Executive Order 13837; and sections 3, 4(a), and 4(c) of Executive Order 13839. Therefore, NFFE Local _____ requests that you respect the Court's order, immediately undo any illegal implementation, and restore the Union to the state of affairs that existed prior to May 25, 2018.

Sincerely,
